CAUTION: Federal and PA rules for taxable interest and dividend income are different. Read the instructions.

If your total taxable interest and dividend income (taxpayer, spouse and/or joint) are both $2,500 or less, you must report the income but do not need to submit any schedule. If either your total interest or dividend income (taxpayer spouse and/or joint) is more than $2,500, you must submit a PA Schedule A and/or B. A taxpayer and spouse must complete separate schedules to report their income or if amounts are reported on Lines 3 through 7 of Schedule A or Lines 3 and 4 of Schedule B. However, if all the income is earned on a joint basis, one schedule may be completed. Complete the oval to indicate whether the income included on the schedule is from the taxpayer, spouse or joint. When reporting interest and/or dividend income from jointly owned accounts not reported on a joint Schedule A and/or B, the taxpayer and spouse must show their share of the interest and/or dividend income on their separate Schedules A and/or B.

Complete the oval to indicate whether the income included on the schedules are from the taxpayer, spouse or joint.
